1. Since his return to Europe from the U.S., Emil Buehrle of Buehrle & Co., Maschinenfabrik, Oerlikon, has been in touch with his former business associate Alfredo Scotti, automatic arms manufacturer of Brescia, who holds patents used by Buehrle.
2. Buehrle is seeking to interest Scotti in a munitions plant which he is setting up in Argentina. Scotti hesitates to make any large investment, because he fears that Buehrle may be too closely tied to Nazi elements in Argentina, but he is negotiating on Buehrle's behalf with the Heinenberg Co., manufacturers of storage batteries. Rome, and the Dutch export firms, Louis Stockfish & Co., and De Vries & Co.
